WHAT TIME IS IT?

Ops, it's right after midnight! And, do you now where approximately eight million aliens are? Why they've stepped right across to southern border and are helping themselves to all that free stuff. You know that stuff you have to break your back to afford. Stuff like free healthcare, free housing and free food. They must think we're a country of suckers, and maybe we are.

SPEAKING OF FREE STUFF!

We to be honest, everything has a price and gosh darn it, we American haven't been paying enough for quite some time now. Matter of fact, we in arrears by something like 31 trillion dollars right now and the least thing we can afford to be doing is to give anything away. You see, at this rate the day will come when we'll default on our debt and hey if that don't all, that's right around June of this year! Well, I suppose the Chinese government will bail us out. Ha Ha. No, seriously.

THE BIDEN GAME!

Old Biden, you'd think he is no longer is much use to the Democrats. It's perhaps about time something unfortunate were to happen to him. Then the party's true leader will emerge in the form of Kamala Harris. Such a better yes woman could not be found. I would predict to she will rise to power any old day now. And, once she is installed, a new 'dawn' will sweep over the Nation, such as has never been seen before. I only wonder what her inaugural address will be like? I wonder how many times she will erupt in laughter as she proceeds to insult the American People. I wonder if they'll have to air it in Spanish and perhaps Mandarin.

IF YOU USE THE SUBWAY...

'A former U.S. Marine who killed a homeless man by putting him in a chokehold on the New York City subway will be arrested on Friday and arraigned on a charge of manslaughter, the Manhattan district attorney said on Thursday.'

There's a simple motto to observe when riding a convenience like a subway— If you see someone attacked, look the other way and don't get involved. That was you won't be charged for anything. Otherwise you might end up like Daniel Penny and be charged as a felon. So, you choose whichever you want to be a hero with a record or a person who walks away a free person. I know what I would do, even if it meant that I would have to extricate myself directly from the scene and move to the far end of the coach. Eyes held down. As I did the night a young girl was raped and killed while we all watched...

AND THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE GOES TO BIDEN!

What a surprise. When you have a voting politic that is largely uniformed, of short attention span and easily deceived... President Biden is the man by a huge margin. Plus, when you take into account the way in which the Media, Corporations and the FBI lean - They've got this election in the bag! And this will be the last election, of any sort, that the American public have to endure.

But, don't worry all you Harris supporters - Biden will take a dive literally and Harris will be ushered to the position of party yes-women for the Democrats. After that they will really take off, the People be damned as they shape their version of ecotopia, on the backs of the working poor. I would love to view that, but I fear old men such as myself will be ushered into the next life...
