IN 2024 LET THE HEALING BEGIN!

As the dust settles, from the 2024 primary election, let us come together and clean house.

Number one on the agenda should be getting rid of all the illegals. After first making sure to criminalize each and every one, the next step will be to dump them on the other side of the giant shiny wall that was just completed.

Number two should be to identify all the Democrats who had a hand in subverting to Constitution, and make sure to strip them of the citizenship and to dump their asses across the border.

Number three will be to turn our attention to the economy and energy infrastructure. It will take a number of years to clean up that mess.

Forth and finally, will be an overhaul of the educational system. I'm not sure that can ever be fixed, the Democrats really did a number on the institution .

These are momentous tasks to undertake and complete. But God willing, we will get them completed by 2030. And just so long as Democrats are not elected into office, that will work.

A Republic is a fragile construct. It takes only a moments inattention and all hell will break loose. Thus it can be said that in the fullness of time, people will forget, and will allow Democrats back into positions of power. And the cycle will repeat all over again. The next time will be about 2040 or thereabouts. A new generation will learn, that there is no room for trust when it comes to Democrats.

THE BIDEN CRIME FAMILY!

Will anyone ever catch Joe Biden or his family or is he too slippery to catch? I don't think so, if worse comes to worse he will pass from the scene either by his own hand or someone else. And then, the real prize will be there to take the reigns of power - Kamala Harris. (Que wild hysterical cackling). She be fully prepared to do whatever her handlers ask of her.

That's assuming they win. But, why not! It's not as if they had to abide by the rules. I would predict they will be the most popular pair in history, with votes eclipsing what they had before.

And what of the ten million plus illegal aliens, it's what they are used to in their home countries. As they march proudly in the streets of America chanting, Lo que es tuyo es nuestro! "What's yours is now ours!"

NEWSOM WELCOMES ILLEGALS!

Governor Newsom welcomed newly arrived illegals with open arms after waffling as to his promises to make blacks millionaires. He now implied that the money will go to the illegals, and he's promising large areas of settlements to be built in large cities thereby putting the foreigners cheek to jowl next to Americans who he says are moving out anyways. He estimates there is room for 100 million more. Oh boy! It'll be a fine time in the old city tonight...

CITIES SET TO BAKE THIS SUMMER!

A most interesting phenomena will take place over much of the nation this summer.

Families driven to account for every cent, and driven almost to bankruptcy will find themselves with a new problem as temperatures meander into the mid-nineties and above. How in the world will they pay for air conditioning?

Biden must be cackling with glee at the thought of millions striving to do without a connivance that used to be taken for granted. At what point will the average person break down and crank the air - 85°f, 87°f... or 90°f? Knowing full well that most do not have the money to pay for it. Oh sure, there will be some with the extra money to survive, or they'll go on a budget program or they will simply die. Either way I'll bet no one in Washington D.C. will suffer very much. And anyway, this will put the nation on pace for all the electric cars coming online is the years to come. California will be a great state to test those waters. They are already short on electricity and this summer Gavin will once again tell motorists with electric cars not to plug them in during certain times. Should be a hoot to watch.
